

Health & Safety Policy

*“We comply with AS/NZS 4801
OH&S Management Systems.”*

ATM Tanks values the right of an employee to feel safe on the job and that the safety of its employees is vital to workforce retention, job satisfaction and incident free work.

We are committed to high safety standards for all staff members and continuous improvement of the QSE Manual.

We comply with AS/NZS 4801:2001 Occupational Health and Safety Management Systems requirements and all applicable Occupational Health and Safety Legislation, i.e. relevant industry standards or codes of practice.

We establish and review measurable objectives and targets to ensure continual improvement and prevention of work-related injury and illness.

We observe consistent safety practices across all of our work sites including the elimination or controlling of hazards and regular audits of safety practices and management systems.

All employees receive induction training covering our safety policy and ongoing safety education is provided to all employees so that they understand their responsibility of Occupational Health and Safety. Policy changes are distributed by email and verbally as needed.

ATM Tanks investigates all work-related incidents which have or could have resulted in serious injury or ill health and take action to prevent recurrence which includes maintaining a formal incident reporting system.

Each employee is personally responsible for working in a safe manner; following all safety rules and procedures; participating in training; and identifying safety or health issues and reporting those to the management.
